

Junior Video Editor

CS Media is excited to be seeking a junior Video Editor / Production Assistant to join our production team. Within this role you will work on a wide range of video assignments, including creative, corporate, social and live streaming projects. This role combines line editing and the use of motion graphics to support the stories being told.

In addition, you will hold the following the responsibilities:

- Editing of video/audio content in response to briefs.
- Working closely with Senior Editors, Producers and Directors on projects, with the ability to work independently to a brief when required.
- Production of motion graphics using pre-existing assets in After Effects.
- Liaising with the in-house team to define their requirements to ensure an on-time, on-budget, high quality delivery.
- Working with the Production team to support post-production schedules and workflow where required.
- Ensure every aspect of content creation runs smoothly; build strong working relationships with other CS Media employees and freelancers to enable this.
- Working alongside the Post Production Manager to ensure projects are delivered within specification, budget and to client satisfaction and deadlines.
- Complete all related administrative tasks (for example: log sheets, personal timesheets, backup of projects).

About you

- A solid background or education in post production.
- Strong knowledge of Adobe Creative Cloud especially Premiere and After Effects.
- Must be responsive and keen to learn new skills and techniques.
- Graduate-level calibre.
- A high level of self-motivation, commitment and dedication.
- A keen eye for detail.
- A strong team player with can-do attitude.
- Full and clean UK driving licence.

About CS Media

CS Media is a full-service multimedia production company with more than 25 years' track record in creating high-end video content for broadcast, digital media and live streams, producing virtual and hybrid events, as well as managing in-house broadcast studios and mobile outside broadcast units.

Based in Dorking in Surrey, our clients range from global financial institutions and medical companies to industry-leading beauty brands and performing arts, who return year-on-year for our ability to deliver high quality products, on-brand and to short deadlines.

About the role

Role: Full-time
Salary: £23,000-£25,000
Holiday: 23 days + bank holidays
Hours: some out-of-hour work may be required
Location: Dorking, Surrey

Interested?

Please send your CV, showreel/samples of your work with a cover letter to office@csmedia.co.uk